ANDY GRAMMER ACOUSTIC TOUR TO PLAY MCCOY CENTER ON SEPTEMBER 13

photos available

Emmy Award winner and acclaimed multi-platinum singer/songwriter Andy Grammer will bring his headlining fall tour, Greater Than: A One Man Show, to the McCoy Center for the Arts (100 E. Dublin-Granville Road, New Albany) on Friday, September 13.

This intimate new solo, acoustic set blends a series of songs, poetry and storytelling. The tour comes on the heels of the release of his new song, Without You.”

Tickets start at $37h and may be purchased at the CBUSArts Ticket Center at the Ohio Theatre (39 E. State St.), online at www.capa.com or www.CBUSArts.com, and by phone at (614) 469-0939 starting at 10 am Friday, June 21.

“Without You” is a compelling, encouraging song celebrating self-empowerment and the strength it takes to choose yourself, with co-writing credits from Grammy & Oscar nominated songwriter Sam Ashworth (H.E.R., Sia, Leslie Odom Jr.). Marking a new musical chapter for Grammer, the track showcases his dynamic vocals and reaches a soaring chorus as he admits, “I think I’d be better without you.” With lyrical vulnerability and an optimistic, hopeful spin, “Without You” is certain to captivate and inspire listeners, in true Grammer fashion.

Grammer’s upcoming headlining fall tour, ‘Greater Than: A One Man Show’ will be a night of songs, poetry, and storytelling, with Andy performing both new music and hits throughout a special solo acoustic set. The coast-to-coast tour kicks off in September and will bring his captivating live show to markets including Detroit, Washington, DC, Seattle, and others. In addition, Grammer was the premier artist partner in National Geographic’s ‘ourHome’ Earth Month campaign, teaming up with the organization for a special performance of his song “Jump.”
